

BRITISH JOURNAL OF COMMUNITY NURSING

bjcn.co.uk

Volume 30 Number 2
February 2025

The only monthly journal dedicated to nursing in the home

Respiratory assessment for registered nurses using a systematic approach: the RIPPAS framework

Biflex Self Adjust: a compression wrap system for lymphoedema

Preventing bloodborne pathogen transmission in community nursing practice

BRITISH JOURNAL OF COMMUNITY NURSING

Volume 30 Number 2

February 2025

Editorial

57

Thoughts on assisted dying: ethical, practical and moral perspectives

Jane Griffiths

Product focus

60

Biflex Self Adjust: a compression wrap system for lymphoedema and venous leg ulcers

Mark Greener

Research roundup

68

Review of recently published articles

Aysha Mendes

Palliative care

70

Addressing the needs of patients with severe mental illnesses

Dion Smyth

Policy

71

The ultimate paradox: navigating the personal and professional contradictions of assisted dying

Francesca Ramadan

In focus

73

An insight into district and community nursing across Wales

Julie Green

Professional

76

The impact of the district nurse advanced nurse practitioner role on the transformation of district nursing

Michelle Dalgarno, Kathleen Halpin, Leanne Connell, Bridget Johnston and Mark Cooper

Clinical

84

Respiratory assessment for registered nurses using a systematic approach: the RIPPAS framework

William Kavanagh-Brown, Heather Reid and Edward Baker

Professional

90

Preventing bloodborne pathogen transmission in community nursing practice

Ann-Marie Aziz