

BRITISH JOURNAL OF COMMUNITY NURSING

bjcn.co.uk

Volume 30 Number 7
July 2025

The only monthly journal dedicated to nursing in the home

Exploring gameplay to support the development of leadership skills in post-registration district nursing: a mixed-method study

Addressing the risks of polypharmacy in the community nursing setting

Using the CURB-65 decision support tool in the community setting: a case study

BRITISH JOURNAL OF COMMUNITY NURSING

Volume 30 Number 7

July 2025

- Editorial 309
The silent crisis undermining community and district nursing
Rida Fazal
- Reflections 312
The future of postgraduate apprenticeships in England
Crystal Oldman
- Palliative care 316
Blood in palliative care
Dion Smyth
- Policy 318
The code and the community nurse: preserving safety
Michelle McBride
- Research roundup 322
Review of recently published articles
Aysha Mendes
- Research 326
Exploring gameplay to support the development of leadership skills in post-registration district nursing: a mixed-method study
Nyree Kendall
- Case study 334
Using the CURB-65 decision support tool in the community setting: a case study
Charlene Martin and Helen Marshall
- Research 340
A discovery into the levels of work engagement of young Irish nurses working in post COVID-19 Australia
Conor Hogan
- Comment 346
When academia meets practice: a new hybrid role in community nursing
Michelle McBride
- Professional 350
Addressing the risks of polypharmacy in the community nursing setting
Sarah Jane Palmer