REVIEWS

9 Systematic Review of the Effects of Positioning on Nonautonomic Outcomes in Preterm Infants

Available evidence suggests that body position affects nonautonomic outcomes for preterm infants; however, good-quality evidence to guide clinical practice is lacking.

Hannah Skelton, Kim Psaila, Virginia Schmied, and Jann Foster

21 Integrative Review of Mental Health and Feeding Styles in Parents of Bottle-Fed Infants

Symptoms of depression may be associated with nonresponsive feeding styles in parents of bottle-fed infants and indicate a need for increased emotional and feeding support.

Taylor B. Nelson, Courtney E. Caiola, and Deborah E. Tyndall

RESEARCH

36 Racial Disparities in Respectful Maternity Care During Pregnancy and Birth After Cesarean in Rural United States

Women who lived in rural areas and identified as members of racialized groups experienced disrespectful maternity care more than their White, non-Hispanic counterparts.

Bridget Basile Ibrahim and Katy Backes Kozhimannil

50 Descriptive Exploratory Study to Understand Postpartum Anxiety Using Multiple Measures

Findings provide evidence that postpartum anxiety is a unique condition necessitating detection by postpartum-specific instruments in clinical settings.

Mary G. Hoberg, Jill R. Demirci, Susan M. Sereika, Michele D. Levine, and Annette DeVito Dabbs

62 Perspectives of Maternal Mortality Among Women Who Live in Indiana

In general, women do not understand maternal mortality, do not receive enough education on this topic, and often have their concerns dismissed during maternity care.

Kalyn M. Renbarger, Jean Marie Place, Renee Twibell, Kristin Trainor, and Elizabeth McIntire

72 Drug Testing Practices and Policies of Labor and Delivery Units Across the Southeastern United States

Most nurse administrators reported that their labor and delivery units had written drug testing policies. Drug testing protocols did not differ based on hospital type, size, or predominant payer source.

Dolly Pressley Byrd and T. Robin Bartlett

84 Cross-Sectional Study of the Frequency and Severity of Traumatic Childbirth Events and How They Affect Maternity Care Clinicians

Traumatic childbirth events can negatively affect maternity care clinicians professionally and personally.

Keisha A. Robinson, Mary E. Johantgen, Carla L. Storr, Joanna M. Gaitens, Robert O. Atlas, and Yolanda Ogbolu

SPECIAL REPORT

95 Current Evidence to Guide Practice, Policy, and Research: Extending Medicaid Coverage in the Postpartum Period

The author provides current evidence on the recent proposal to extend Medicaid coverage in the postpartum period.
